SLIDE/LECTURES:

'Indian Sources for the 'Indian Style' in Early Chinese Sculpture' will be presented Saturday at 9:00 a.m. by John Huntington in Room 227 Wisconsin Center, (see page 21). The term, "Indian style," when used in relation to Chinese sculpture is a catchall for what would better be termed "non-Chinese" elements. However, in some cases truly Indian schools of art do seem to be the precedent for specific Chinese sculptural conventions. The presentation examines the Chinese evidence & relates specific Chinese conventions to specific Indian schools.

'The Bene-Israel & Other Jews of India' will be presented Friday at 12:00 Noon by Ezekiel Barber in Room B-1, Lowell Hall, (see page 12). This presentation will look at a community that now numbers about 4,000 in a population of almost 700 million.

POETRY READING: "A Caste of Thought," poems of Indian Meditation & History, in English, will be read by Poet Angela Lobo-Cobb on Friday at 12:00 Noon in the Lower Lounge, Lowell Hall, (see page 12).

ANCILLARY GROUP MEETINGS:

The Nepal Studies Association will hold a business meeting Friday noon, (see page 12). The organization is also sponsoring a series of panels, (see page 25).

The American Nepal Educational Foundation is holding two meetings on Friday afternoon. The Grantees Meeting is to discuss specific matters of concern only to ANEF grantees. This will be followed by an Open Meeting to discuss matters pertaining to ANEF scholarship aid for Nepalese. This will be of interest to possible applicants & their advisors, (see page 17).

The University of Wisconsin College-Year-In-India Program is holding its 21st Reunion in conjunction with this year's Conference. Alumni/ae of the Program are presenting a series of panels and events, (see page 5).

ABOUT THE COVER.....

This year's calligraphic program cover was designed by Professor Muhammad Umar Memon of the Department of South Asian Studies, University of Wisconsin-Madison. The stylized Urdu script calligraphy along the sides was designed by Professor Memon and reads, in Urdu, "giyārhvīn sālāna junūbī aishiyā'ī kānfarans" or "11th Annual Conference on South Asia." It is read from right to left so it reads from bottom to top on the fold side of the cover and from top to bottom on the outside edge. Urdu script was derived from Arabic script.

The calligraphic design in the center was chosen by Professor Memon for its beauty and for its appropriate meaning for a conference. In Arabic, it reads: "wa qul, 'Rabbi Zidnī ʿilman!'" which translates "And say, 'My Lord, increase me in knowledge!'" This design was done by Mamoun Sakkal, a professional calligrapher from Seattle, Washington, and is a portion of a larger design printed on the cover of the July 1982 Middle East Studies Association Bulletin. The Association has kindly given us permission to reprint it in part here.

Our thanks to Bob Patterson for the technical assistance and preparation work on the program cover again this year.
